SECTION-C

Rathi Steels is a leading manufacturing company of main producer of steel rails, as well as a major producer of wide steel plates and other steel products with a global presence. The company recently found itself embroiled in a crisis. This began with a whistle blower coming forward with evidence suggesting that the company had been manipulating quality control data to meet production quotas. This revelation led to widespread concerns among the stakeholders, including customers, investors, regulatory authorities, and the general public.

The allegations of quality control manipulation eroded the trust in Rathi Steels' products and integrity. Customers who rely on the company's steel for critical infrastructure projects started questioning the safety and reliability of its products. The crisis tarnished the company's reputation as a reliable and ethical industry leader. Negative media coverage and social media discussions also spread rapidly, amplifying the perception of wrongdoing and incompetence by the organisation.

Regulatory authorities launched investigations into the allegations, potentially exposing Rathi Steels to fines, penalties, and legal liabilities. Failure to address these issues promptly and transparently could lead to further legal consequences. As a result, the investors and shareholders expressed concerns about the long-term financial impact of the crisis on the company's stock value and profitability. The uncertainty surrounding the company's future prospects is leading to market volatility and investor anxiety. Internally, the employees also started feeling demoralized and uncertain about the company's future. The lack of clear communication from senior management fuelled the rumours and speculation, further worsening the morale issues.

Q.4. Attempt all parts of the following:(2×4=8)

- 4(a) Assuming yourself to be the CEO of Rathi Steels, devise a communication strategy to deal with a crisis emerged in the company because of a confidential information breach.
- 4 (b) Reference to the above case, which business writing will be apt to deal with the situation and why?
